Swami Advaitananda is always a joy to learn from, be it through the visionary values of Vedanta or the blissful break-throughs of Bhakti-shaastras. Swamiji's packed public discourses and camps take place in all parts of India, and he has a unique way of connecting with seekers whether on or off the dais. With each person whose life is touched by his classes, Swamiji continues to live up to the motto of Chinmaya Mission:

To give maximum happiness to the maximum number for the maximum time.
